Microsoft's press release at the X06 event in Barcelona was full of surprises this year and re-affirms their intention to be a serious contender to Sony, if not become the new number one console. In their press release they announced and showed existing and new unseen titles, including, Project Gotham Racing 4, Halo Wars, Banjo-Kazooie along with a deal between Microsoft, Bungie and Pete Jackson (director of King Kong and Lord of The Rings). You can find a copy of the full press release here.
